Сонаsseт (Mass.), November 27th.—It is reported here that the Philadelphia steam collier Allentown has foundered off this port. There seems to be little doubt that the steamer was sunk on some of the ledges directly outside this port. At about 2 p. M. on Sunday a number of people at the village heard the sound of a steamer's whistle, and last night an immense amount of drift and wreckage came ashore at Sandy Cove and Sandy Beach, the marks upon which indicated conclusively that the wrecked vessel must have been the Allentown. Several life-preservers and some other wreckage was stamped with her name. port. There seems to be little doubt that

The Allentown cleared from Philadelphia on the 21st instant for Salem, Mass., with 1,660 tons of coal. She was commanded by Captain Odiorne, and had a crew of eighteen men. The vessel is one of the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company's line of colliers. Iron Company's line of colliers.

THE SAD STORY OF THE BEACH. COHASSET, November 27th .- P. M. - All day long wreckage of various descriptions has been coming ashore along the beaches —huge timbers, spars, cabin furniture, fine inside furnishings, chairs, life-preservers and other articles appertaining to a steamer's outfit—and many of them stamped "Allentown" have been seen in the breakers off the shore and found scattered along the water front.

This wreckage tells too plainly that the fine iron steamer Allentown has been broken up on one of the huge sunken ledges of this port, always a terror to mariners. Captain Nathaniel W. Treat, one of Cohasset's oldest seafaring men, and from whom the first intimation of the disaster was learned, said the vessel had foundered either on the Sea Ledges or on the Sea was learned said the vessel had loundered either on the Sea Ledges or on the Grampus, which are long sunken ledges lying about three miles from the nearest point of the mainland. If this was the case, the vessel must have gone down with all on board within a very few minutes after striking.

Since the early reports of the supposed within a very few minutes after striking.

Since the early reports of the supposed catastrophe, many of the villagers have been seen and they say they distinctly heard the steamer's whistles shortly after noon on Sunday and repeated at intervals of an hour or more, as if signaling for assistance or a pilot. It was so thick at the time that nothing could be seen at so great a distance from the shore, and even if any observation could have been made no boat could live in so tremendous a sea. ATLANTIC CITY (N. J.), November 27th .-The storm has abated, and the sun is now shining brightly. A survey of the situation shows that no such destruction to property on this beach has been known since the incorrection to the storm of the property on this beach has been known since the incorporation of the city. Hundreds of property-owners from Philadelphia and other localities have come down, fearing that their property would be swept away last night. The tide receded to-day, and the sea, under the influence of the northwest wind, was beaten down; but the result—especially in the lower portions of the city—is one of almost complete destruction.

[S. F. Chronicle, November 27th.] Charles F. Crocker, of the Southern Pa cific Company, will arrive in this city from New York this morning His Eastern visit is reported to have been entirely successful. He went to New York to consul with C. P. Huntington on the projects of the company, and to confer with him regarding the future financial policy of the corporation. A. Leonard vs Ami Kimball—Continued until recember 12, 1888. HE TOOK THE WRONG MEDICINE. Robert Stewart, of Petaluma, recently had a ueer experience. He writes: "Carbuncles and boils afflicted my face and neck for weeks. Finally I procured a bottle of one of the leading sarsaparillas. To my surprise it made matters worse. This made me lose faith in sarsaparillas, but seeing a statement that Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla dried up boils and face eruptions instead of forcing more out as the potash sarsaparillas do, I bought a bottle. The effect was astonishing. The carbuncles and boils began to dry up, and in two weeks my face was as well and smooth as ever. My brother also took a bottle with the same benefit. ROBERT STEWART,

"Petaluma, Cal." [Explanatory Note-The mineral iodide of potash, which is the basis of nearly all other sarsaparillas, attacks the blood direct, hence forces impurities through the skin, creating more boils and pimples. Joy's Vegetable Sar-saparilla acts oppositely. Its vegetable alter-atives stimulate the various secretive organs and thus eliminate all impurities through the natural channels, hence dries up pimples and skin eruptions at once. The above testimon-ial is a case in point.

GENERAL NOTICES.

I suffered from a very severe cold in my nead for months without relief. Was advised to head for months without relief. Was advised to use Ely's Cream Balm. It has worked like magic in its cure, after using it one week. I feel grate-ful for what it has done for me.—Samuel J. Har-ris (Wholesale Grocer), 119 Front St., New York.

A new idea embraced in Ely's Cream Balm. Catarrh is cured by cleansing and healing, not by drying up. The application is easy and agreeable. It is not a liquid or snuff. Price, 50 cents. Advice to Mothers.—Mrs. Winslow's SOUTHING SYRUP should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little caerub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best-known remedy for diarrhea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

but after telling the time of day for upwards of a quarter of a century it wore out. It was doctored, bushed, new cogs added, worn-out springs replaced, but finally it succumbed to the wear and tear of years. The doctors who had rejuvenated it on so many occasions that its face had become familiar stated that it had out-lived its usefulness. Its tick had stopped, its hands that had so often pointed to the time for recess refused to longer indicate the passing hours, and Miss Jones took it down carefully and laid it away tenderly on a shelf, in the basement of the building. It is all to be summed up as follows: Miss Jones, wishing a clock, a most desirable piece of school furniture, applied to one of the Directors for an order to purchase one. A DETECTIVE'S APPEAL.

J. B. Hume, Wells, Fargo & Co.'s special officer, has sent the following communication to Governor Waterman, Mr. Hume is misinformed in regard to Drager being rector, who listened to her request, and promptly sent a clock to the school-house, saying that if the Board refused to pay for it, he would. Now, that is the whole matthe crime. He was, on the other hand, the last one to admit that he was even present at the killing. Even after Olsen present at the killing. Even after Olsen to the comedian of the early days in an instant. Daniels' play is early days in a and Myers had confessed in his presence, he persisted in denying that he had ever been on the Lowell ranch at all. Olsen was the first to confess to the stealing of the horses, and asserted that Myers killed Lowell. When Myers was arrested he, too, confessed that he did the killing, but afterwards said that Olsen and Drager assis ed him. Following is Mr. Hume's letter in full:

could not get a new one he was informed that the 'teacher had' thrown it into the basement.' This was a starding statement. A wantom destruction of school property could not be tolerated. At once the question arose, 'How much is that school costing, and ean't we get along just as well without it?' I would like to say right here that it seems very strange that the Directors $2.50 clock, when they go to work and purt a cooking range in the Capital Grammar School for Professor Johnston and his teachers. I have nothing to say against that. When they put in a cupboard, dailed, in El Dorado county, and the seems we did not say anything against it, even it it did cost more than $100. We did not complain when, during last vacation, a kitchen and dining promous were use in at the Sacramento Grammar kick, however, when they jump stiff-legged about a fittle old time-piece for the colored school.

"Now they were all wrong. The poor, aged, worn-out, time-honored and antiquated 'grandfathers' clock' is in a good state of preservation, but absolutely beyond resuscitation. The Board, before soing merey to the man who first configuration, and satisfy themselves that there is at all it is as a curio of the last decade, and no donth would be quite an addition to the collection in the local museum.

It was a surprise to all Californians present of some years standing to see Harry Courtaine in the company, and apparently just as capable as when a away back in the "fifties" and "sixties" he delighted Wm. O'Brien was sent up for thirty San Francisco audiences in comedy parts. His part was cast for Sam Morris owing to Courtaine's illness at Stockton, but he re-covered in time to take his accustomed place last night, which accounts for the ab-sence of the name from the house bill, but all old-timers knew the comedian of the early days in an instant. Daniels' play is the evening in a roar of laughter, and a times fairly convulsed it with its merri ment. Through all Daniels is the chief cause of the mirth. His familiar manner isms become new in their better robing and no one seems to realize that he has seen the same "business" in another guise. The piece will be repeated to-night for the Persian Embroidery on Scrim.

This is something new, just received from the East. The work is in bright colors and tinsel on cream scrim, and in very striking and pretty patterns. The collection includes Tidies, Chair Scarfs, Toilet Sets, Table Covers, Mats, etc., at various prices, from 50 cents to $3.

It Ought To. It Does.

"What do you really think of Ready-made Clothing?" We have been asked that more than once. Here are three facts, which give perhaps the best answer we know of:

1. Some of the best talent in the country is employed in Ready-made Clothing, and there are designers and cutters in New York who receive from $5,000 to $7,000 yearly.

It is reasonable to suppose that the work of such men ranks with the best custom tailoring.

2. More time and expense can be spent in getting up one suit, from which hundreds are to be copied, than in making a suit intended only for one

Ready-made Clothing should have no superior in design or in the proper modeling of the different parts.

3. A hundred or a thousand suits can be made and sold for much less than any one suit.

Ready-made Clothing is a great saving in

Of course, in reasoning from such facts as the above, it must be remembered that there is as much difference in the Ready-made Clothing kept by different houses as between merchant tailors. The best clothing isn't common. We won't say that we are the only house that keeps it. We certainly have much the largest and most varied assortment of the really fine work in the city.

Captain Hunter reports that on Saturday last, while the steamer was going into Klawak, and while in the entrance of Queen Charlotte's Sound, a heavy gale sprang up. Every effort was made to secure the ship and get to a place of safety, but before this was accomplished the gale had increased to such force that the steamer became unmanageable. Sail was made on the vessel, but as they were made the force of the gale blew them away.

The steamer at length was blown on a reef, where she struck heavily twice and was badly strained. In order to get her off the reef a kedge was let go from her stern, which swung her around, and the force of the sea carried her over the reef, owing to the fact that she was light. While in the trough of the sea and unmanageable, it was found necessary to cut away the main mast, which eased her considerably.

The problem is greatly prostrated.

Death of a Prominent Mexican Official.

EL Paso (Tex.), November 27th.—There died to-day in the city of Chihuahua J. N.
Zubiarn, a leading citizen, who was for many years Mayor of the city. He became widely known for his firm friendship to Americans and his steadfast adherence to the idea of advancement which American visitors brought with them. His death is very much regretted in El Paso, where he was widely known and warmly appreciated.
